STEVE HENRY

Principal

Principal Steve Henry is a brilliant and prolific artist, with watercolor being his medium of choice. It is a talent that fulfills both personal passion and professional expediency. Responsible for generating and executing design concepts that integrate aesthetic and practical elements in comfortable, memorable surroundings, Steve is able to quickly communicate ideas to clients and staff through his captivating sketches and paintings.

Raised in Arkansas and educated in Texas, Steve launched his interior design career at The Oglesby Group and Staffebach Design Associates. Steve moved west to San Francisco to pursue interiors at SOM before joining BAMO as its 3rd employee.

A Principal since 2003, Steve has worked with many of the world's leading operators, including Four Seasons, Ritz-Carlton, Taj, Exclusive Resorts, and Robert Burns and designed houses for the most discerning clients. Whether a hotel or a residence, Steve is able to layer unexpected elements together in perfect harmony.

Steve was honored with Interior Design's Outstanding Achievement Award in 1992. His work has appeared in Architectural Digest, House & Garden, Town & Country, Interior Design, and Hospitality Design.

Steve's portfolio includes The New York Palace, The Ritz-Carlton Club and Residences, Kapalua Bay, The Grand Hotel a Villa Feltrinelli, and The Taj Mahal Palace Mumbai, as well as private residences around the world. Current commissions include Four Seasons Hotel Madrid, private residences in the Bay Area, and the Galleria Park Hotel in Union Square.

“Collaboration is key to a successful project. It’s about establishing a partnership with the client and creating an inspiring environment where solutions organically emerge.”
